Hi Jennifer!

Personal note: I hope Jenna had a GREAT first day of school! Junior?!

I think you're the representative for my area (Riverview subdivision) but if not, please let me know and I'll direct this email to the correct individual...

I recently learned that our school system has been removing books from the library in response to SB150. I would like to encourage the school board to reconsider this position.

I understand the Kentucky Department of Education has not provided firm guidance on the implementation of SB150 and, in not doing so, provides districts with some leeway to choose a course of action. There is no mention of books or libraries in SB150. Attached is legal analysis by Danville lawyer, Susan Weston, who has many years of experience in educational policy.

I believe that the position Boyle is taking comes from one of good intent and I recognize that this is a tough time to be in school leadership. My concern is that, in an effort to protect itself, the district has overstepped the bounds of what is actually required by SB150.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Katy

Ms. Neyhouse,

Thank you for reaching out to board members about your concern. Here is some information about the issues at hand. The administration met with legal counsel soon after SB 150 was passed to discuss the law's implementation and was advised by counsel of actions to take. We follow the law to the best of our ability. District librarians were ONLY asked to remove any materials that directly violated SB 150, but some books were removed that should not have been removed. We are in the process of reconsideration of these materials. If you feel that something was removed that shouldn't have been removed, I ask that you contact the building principal for reconsideration of that item. I appreciate your patience as we work through these issues and gain more clarity on this bill.

Sincerely,
Mark Wade

Hi Jennifer,

I hope Jenna had a good first day!

Thank you for leading our School Board. I know it is a difficult job, especially during these last few years.

I am asking that the School Board reconsider its stance that SB 150 requires that certain books be removed from the school libraries. I have read the law, and while I am not a lawyer, I do not see an explicit requirement that books be removed. It is heartbreaking to me that our excellent school district is taking this step. A strong education requires considering diverse opinions, especially at the high school level.

I am not aware of other school districts in the state removing books from the library unless there is a specific complaint and process followed about certain titles. Am I wrong about this?

Thanks again for your service!

We are 5 weeks out! Whew! Hard to believe!

Just want to update you on a few things. First, the last day to check out books will be Tuesday, May 2nd so I can start collecting ALLLLLLL the books the last two weeks of school.

KSA testing will start Wednesday, May 3rd. During the testing window, the library will be closed for testing and make-ups. Please do not send kids to the library. I will be stationed in the hallway with loaner Chromebooks for those that need devices like last year. If you don't have my phone number saved, please do: 859-247-0533. Like last year, when you have technology issues during the testing window, please text me and not John. That way I can fix what I can fix and if it's on his end, he can work on that instead of being distracted by constant tech issues. When testing in the library is done for the day, I will send out an email. At that point, you can send students to the library. However, this will mean that regular scheduled classes on the calendar will be canceled after the 2nd.

Device checks and collection will happen on field day, May 17th. If field day gets canceled, we will still take up devices this day so I can make sure I get all of them collected by Friday. 5th grade will NOT turn in devices, but I still need to do health checks on them. They will keep theirs over the summer and take them to middle school. Once I get the field day schedule, I will send out a time that you are to come to the library along with directions to make it go quickly and smoothly as in years past.

I will start putting missing book reports in your mailboxes each week starting the last week of April and once again, we will have a contest. The class that gets ALL their library books turned in FIRST in the month of May wins an ice cream sundae party! The winning teacher wins a $25 gift card to Amazon.

Thank you all so much. I will be updating the calendar today so that it reflects the dates in the message. Have a wonderful day and only FOUR more MONDAYS!

I need an easier way for my littles to return their library books each morning. Currently, my library helpers deliver a book bin to the classes that will be visiting the library that day and students from the classes deliver the books to the library. The book bins are very heavy for our youngest students. Can anyone suggest a rolling book bin/crate? I would need 4-5 bins.

CAUTION: External Sender

I have tried several methods (rolling milk crates, purchased small shopping carts) but what I do now is by far the easiest.

I used to collect books in the morning before the classes started coming in (like you said you do), but without an assistant that was just too much. So I sacrificed some class time and have them bring the books when they come to class. They line up and I scan the books and I tell them where to put the books. (This also helps because I'm not inundated with huge stacks of books the first thing in the morning.)

For k-2 they put their books in the bins depending on the author's last name.

For grades 3-5 I have them put them on a certain side of the cart depending on fiction or nonfiction.

This has helped me so much! I wish I had done this from the beginning. This method also makes it super fast to reshelve the books because they are already (sort of) presorted. I also encourage students to choose library books from the cart. 😊 Sometimes I even give them a Dojo point if they do. 😊 They are the most popular books anyway.

Hope this helps!

Here's how I can help you with your May tasks:

1. Add this product to your TPT wish list today, then buy it tomorrow for 25% off with promo code ThankYou23. I've just updated this bundle of summer reading challenges with recent book series recommendations. You can simply print these and copy them (2-sided) to send home with your students! Easy peasy!

2. Check out this blog post for ways to reward/encourage/celebrate getting library books back at the end of the year. We have to get creative to round up those strays, and I think you'll find these ideas super helpful!

That's all! Stay strong, my friend, and take care of yourself!

This was on the old checklist for teachers to complete on closing day. What do you still need on the checklist for closing day, and what can I update/delete?

1. _ Teachers who are not returning, please turn in all library books, including all Professional books to the Library. Also turn in any equipment checked out (laptops, etc.) by May 27 to Kristy.
2. _____ Returning teachers return any library books checked out to your classroom.
3. _____ All iPads and/or Chromebooks and carts turned into the Library by May 27 to Kristy.
4. _____ All chromebooks and IPADS turned into Library and accounted for.

1. ☐ Teachers who are not returning, please turn in all library books, including all Professional books to the Library. Also turn in any technology provided by the district (macbooks, ipads, apple pens, chargers, etc.) to Kristy before leaving.
2. ☐ Returning teachers please check your classroom library for any library books that may have gotten mixed in and return those to the library.
3. ☐ All K-1 iPads and chargers turned into the Library. Kindergarten, please make sure they are labeled with a piece of tape with their name on it.
4. ☐ Please check your room for any Chromebook chargers that may have been left behind and return those to the library.

Good Morning, Ladies!

Here is the Library specific PD schedule for next school year. If you have any questions, please let me know.

Library PD Plan- 2023

Also, SB 150 has some implications for library media programs. We met with Stephen Dexter regarding the law and its impact on curriculum and programs, specifically the library media programs. We will all meet on Wednesday, May 24th, at 8:30 to review the law and his guidance. I will send a calendar invite.

Have a great LAST week of school!
Stephanie

I got this today—how are you interpreting the wording in the bill? I can think of a lot of books I would need to remove.

Yes, we need to remove any books that contain any type of vulgarity. We need to look at SB 5 when making the decisions. Here are a couple of sections that will help. Thanks.

(a) Contain the exposure, in an obscene manner, of the unclothed or apparently unclothed human male or female genitals, pubic area, or buttocks or the female breast, or visual depictions of sexual acts or simulations of sexual acts, or explicit written descriptions of sexual acts; (b) Taken as a whole, appeal to the prurient interest in sex; or (c) Is patently offensive to prevailing standards regarding what is suitable for minors

"No David!" shows David running down the street naked, buttocks clearly visible. I guess that will need to be pulled as well.

Who gets to determine if it's considered obscene? I don't think No, David is obscene. It would be very hard to get it to hold up in a court of law.
